New and expanding markets, both at home and abroad, are essential for a healthy agricultural industry. The Montana Department of Agriculture is committed to introducing the high quality agricultural products we produce to people throughout the world. While we have for years exported much of our grain to Asia, we are discovering a variety of new markets ranging from demand for our beef and bee pollen among the Japanese to a taste for our huckleberries among chocolate lovers from New York to California.

This directory shows the diversity of Montana agricultural products available and why agriculture is still Montana's 'Number One' industry.

Sincerely,

KEITH KELLY
DIRECTOR

The Montana Department of Agriculture is pleased to provide this directory of Montana agricultural product suppliers for your reference. It will serve to acquaint you with some of the firms that distribute our products to consumers in many parts of the world.

Agriculture is Montana's number one industry. Sales of products from 24,000 farms contributed over $1.6 billion to the state's economy with wheat ranking as our number one commodity. Our large herds of cattle and sheep are the source of choice, processed carcasses and supply the nation's finest selection of purebred breeding stock. Montana is assuming an increasingly important role in supplying domestic and international markets with many basic agricultural products to satisfy food demand.

The suppliers listed herein are willing to cooperate in providing a reliable and efficient source for these basic agricultural products. The Montana Department of Agriculture is always ready to assist both buyer and seller with respect to developing the necessary contacts for the sale of Montana agricultural products.

Sincerely,
